

Time	Activity
9:00-9:45	Registration / Tea & Coffee
9:45-10:00	Welcome by Lowis Charfe, University of Central Lancashire, England
10:00-10:20	Presentation 1 Social pedagogy and white supremacist capitalist patriarchy By Cecile Remy, UCL & Open University, England
10:20-10:40	Creative critical curiosity: cluster 1 A reflective space to integrate ideas from the presentations
10:40-11:00	Presentation 2 Transgress what you do in social pedagogy By Marianne Træbing Secher, VIA and Roskilde Universities, Denmark
11:00-11:30	Coffee Break (30 mins)
11:30-11:50	Presentation 3 "They won't engage!" Going beyond the status quo with people who don't engage with the support available in Denmark By Lotte Junker Harbo & Charlotte Vange Løvstad, VIA University, Denmark
11:50-12:10	Creative critical curiosity: cluster 2 A reflective space to integrate ideas from the presentations
12:00-12:20	Presentation 4 Widening participation, transgression and engaged pedagogy By Sebastian Monteux, Abertay University, Scotland

SPPA & SPPREAD Conference 2023

12:20-12:40	Presentation 5 Diversity-Reflexivity: an approach towards provoking diverse thinking within social work and social pedagogy training By Robert Koglek, MCI, Innsbruck, Austria
12:40-13:00	Creative critical curiosity: cluster 3 A reflective space to integrate ideas from the presentations
13:00-14:00	Lunch & networking
14:00-14:10	Warm up/relational activity
14:10-14:40	Presentation 6 Socioeducation in the Brazilian youth justice system: emancipation and transgression By Tatiana Yokoy & Leonardo Ortegá, University of Brasília, Brazil
14:40-15:00	Creative critical curiosity: cluster 4 A reflective space to integrate ideas from the presentations
15:00-15:10	Q&A with Tatiana and Leonardo
15:10-15:30	Coffee break
15:30-15:40	Presentations recap By Lowis Charfe
15:40-16:15	Open panel discussion with presenters How is social pedagogy a catalyst for change?
16:15-16:30	Closing remarks By Robyn Kemp, chair of SPPA trustees & Prof. Claire Cameron SPPA patron
